CARROLL COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION

Will Meet at Oak Grove the Fourth Saturday and Sunday in October

Since arriving in Carroll county I have been informed that there is quite a misunderstanding among some people, caused by contradictory announcements, as to the place and date of the next semi-annual session of the above named convention. The next session of this convention meets at Oak Grove, about three and one-half miles southwest of Buena Vista, on the fourth Saturday and Sunday in October next.

By an agreement between the president, Prof. C. A. Presson, and myself, hereafter the convention on Saturday will be called to order at 1 o'clock p. m., instead of in the forenoon as heretofore. We believe we are voicing the sentiment of the majority of the people in this voluntary action, but should there be any opposition to the change, we shall be glad to know of it at the next business meeting of the convention.

Respectfully,
VIRGIL H. KEE,
Corresponding Secretary.

Barker--Bntler

Dr. Louis Barker, of Pembroke, Ky., and Mrs. Mary Williams Butler were quietly married Monday afternoon at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. A. Robins, in McKenzie, the latter being a sister of the bride, with the Rev. R. B. Swift, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. The bride, who is an excellent musician, is a woman of much charm and beauty, and has a wide circle of friends to be interested in her happiness. The bridal couple left on the evening train for their home in Pembroke.

Red Cross Notes

The Red Cross office has been moved to the office over Jones' restaurant and the Home Service Section will continue to serve soldiers, sailors and their families from this office.

Many new rulings of the War Risk Term Insurance are being made so as to meet all objections which have been made to it. The latest ruling as to canceled or lapsed insurance is that it may be reinstated in whole or part within eighteen months from date of discharge under the following conditions:

A. The applicant must be in as good health as at the date of discharge or at the date the insurance lapsed if lapse occurred after discharge, and must so state in the signed application for reinstatement.

B. The application must be accompanied by a remittance to cover two months' premiums on the amount to be reinstated. One month's premium pays for the insurance automatically given the first month for which payment was not received; the other pays for the first month's premium on the reinstated insurance.

All discharged soldiers who have not received a Victory Button, and wish to secure one, can get the information at Red Cross headquarters. Also, if there are soldiers who did work on roads outside of the limits of cantonments or military reservations, while in the service, they can secure information as the way to apply for pay for such work.

JOHN T. PRELER, Chm.
MRS. J. W. MURPHY, Sec.
Home Service Section, A. M. C.

PLAN TO COMPLETE CARMACK MONUMENT

Arrangements Made at Meeting of Friends for Finishing the Memorial

At a meeting of friends of the late Senator Edward Ward Carmack, held in Nashville Saturday, arrangements were made looking to the completion of the monument and its erection on Capitol Hill.

For some time the pedestal for the Carmack memorial monument has been in place at the Cedar street entrance to the state capitol, but the monument proper has never been completed. This is now assured as a result of the meeting Saturday, following which it was stated that plans had been devised by which the necessary funds would be raised and work on the memorial pushed to conclusion.

Hunting a Site

A committee composed of some of the leading business men of McKenzie have been appointed to select a suitable location for the building site of a "Greater McKenzie" college. The present site of this school is entirely too small for the modern building which is to be erected. The following men are on the committee: J. A. Marshall, chairman; C. M. Wrinkle, B. P. Moore, J. A. Robins and W. S. Reginald. The keeping of this school in McKenzie means much to the educational development of the community.

BUY BIG FARM IN ARKANSAS

Former Huntingdon Boys Have Prospered in the Town of Tyronzo, Arkansas

A special from Tyronzo, Ark., to Sunday's Commercial Appeal, gives the following account of a land deal that will be interesting to many of our readers as Messrs. Wood and Warren, while boys, resided in Huntingdon, and have many relatives and friends here:

"The most important land deal made near Tyronzo in some time was closed this week, when L. M. Wood and W. W. Warren bought of J. C. Hooten the old Hooten plantation, consisting of 1,600 acres. This land is located in a very fertile section of the best land in Arkansas. The farm is located one mile southwest of town and will have one of the laterals of the Ozark Trail to extend three-quarters of a mile along the front and then three miles along the side of the place. This is one of show places of Tyronzo and will be one of the best farms in the county when Wood and Warren have completed the improvements which they are contemplating. The sale price was $239,115, being approximately $150 per acre.

Kirk--Vickers

Mr. Joe Kirk and Miss Maine Vickers, popular young people out on route No. 3, were married last Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. Mixie Chambers, with whom the bride resided, Rev. Eliahue Martin performing the ceremony. Ten or twelve couples of young people witnessed the marriage and accompanied the happy young couple to Concord, where the party attended preaching services. After the preaching hour was over, the groom and bride with a number of friends went to the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Krik, where a wedding dinner was served. They have many friends who wish them much happiness in their married life.

Methodist Church

Sunday, September 28—9:45 a. m., Sunday school (Missionary Day); 11 a. m., preaching, subject: "Christ's Attitude Toward His Home Town"; 8 p. m., preaching, subject: "Advertising Religion." Public visitors, friends, you are welcome. Come and worship with us.

D. B. RAULINS, Pastor.

A Fine Rain

An end was put to the recent dry spell last Sunday night by a heavy rain. The dust had grown to be very disagreeable and in some communities stock water had become scarce. The farmers, however, had taken advantage of the continued dry weather to save their late hay and to do a great deal of other valuable farm work. The rain will be great for turnips and will be of advantage to late corn, and will not do cotton any harm.

Revival at McKenzie

A union revival will begin in McKenzie September 28, the services to be held in the Cumberland Presbyterian church. Dr. Hal Spragins, pastor of the First Methodist church of Memphis, assisted by the pastors of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Cumberland Presbyterian churches, will do the preaching. The revival is expected to continue for a period of two weeks.

Central Association

The Central Baptist Association was held with the Cane Creek church, near Spring Creek, last week. This was the eighty-third annual session of the body. B. F. Jarrell, of Humboldt, was moderator, and delegates from fifty-one different churches were enrolled. The reports from the various churches showed the work in the bounds of the association progressing nicely, and the proceedings of the body were very harmonious.

The question of women messengers from local churches was the occasion for some warm talks, and it was finally decided to refer this matter to the churches and decide it at the next annual session in 1920. The report on woman's work was read by Dr. I. N. Penick showing the women are doing a great part in carrying out the commission to the church.

McLemoresville News

On Monday evening, September 2, the members of the official board of the McLemoresville M. E. church were delightfully entertained at the beautiful new parsonage with the pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Hart, as host and hostess. A delicious four-course menu was served in the dining room, which was attractively decorated for the occasion. The hostess was assisted by Mesdames J. O. Harvey, Geo. T. Adams, Misses Lillian McKinney and Lois Mays. Those seated at the table were: Rev. H. P. Keathley, Rev. W. L. Hart, Prof. E. H. Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. DeLaney, Messrs. E. E. Adams, H. I. Carter, W. G. Blow, Geo. T. Adams and S. E. Carter.

Immediately after dinner the board assembled in the reception hall, where the business of the fourth quarterly conference was transacted. Rev. H. P. Keathley, district superintendent of the McLemoresville district, stated in his closing remarks that reports show that the McLemoresville charge has had the most successful year out of the four years he has served on the district. He expressed himself as being delighted to find Rev. and Mrs. Hart and their parishioners so lovable and happy in the work, and declared the beautiful new model parsonage home erected this year, all of the pastor and district superintendent's salaries paid in full; the splendid Centenary contributions, a number of conversions and new additions to church, one of the best evergreen Sunday schools in the land, and the intelligent people stand out as a great advertisement of what christian education and the gospel of Jesus Christ will do for a community.

The official board elected Mr. J. O. Harvey as a delegate to the annual conference to be held in Colliwood, Middle Tennessee, next week, and Prof. E. H. Harrell as reserve delegate. It also, unanimously, asked the bishop to return Rev. H. P. Keathley and Rev. W. L. Hart as district superintendent and pastor for next year.

A successful protracted meeting closed at the M. E. church Sunday evening. Rev. H. P. Keathley, the district superintendent,

FARMER KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Minister's Son Shoots Mother of Three Children and Then Kills Himself

At Salem, about ten miles from Bradford, late Saturday afternoon, J. C. Wilson, a young farmer, shot and killed his wife. He then turned the smoking revolver and shot himself twice, living only a short while.

Wilson was the son of the Rev. Calvin Wilson of Brownsville, an aged and highly respected minister of the M. E. church, south. His wife was a daughter of William Rowland, a prosperous farmer, prominent as a leader of church affairs in the Bradford community.

The exact cause of the double tragedy is not known. The couple had been separated and had lived apart for a short while, and only a week or two ago settled their differences and began life together anew. Wilson was believed to be in a low state of health.

Three small children, all under five years of age, survive.

Ware--Rushing

Paul Ware, of McKenzie, manager of Ware's garage, and Miss Christine Rushing, daughter of Mrs. Rosa Rushing, proprietor of the Anderson House at Martin, were happily married at the Williams Hotel, Martin, Wednesday of last week with the Rev. G. L. Carr, pastor of the Baptist church, officiating. After a visit to the groom's mother at Memphis they will make their home in McKenzie, where they possess a wide circle of friends. Mr. Ware is a brother of R. E. Ware, of Huntingdon, has visited here often and has a number of friends among our people who wish him and his accomplished bride much happiness.
